International Women's Day Celebration

International Women's Day is a global day celebrating the social, economic, cultural, and political achievements of women. The day also marks a call to action for accelerating gender parity. Significant activity is witnessed worldwide as groups come together to celebrate women's achievements and women's equality.

Sheila Raheja School of Business Management and Research celebrated International Women's Day on March 6, 2023.

The programme was organised under the guidance of Dr. H.J. Bhasin, Director, SRBS. The coordination was done by Prof. Sonali Shiralkar, Prof. Darshana Murkibhavi, and Prof. Deepa Manoj, along with our SRBS students, Mr. Yash Mistry, Ms. Louan Rodrigues, and many others in coordination with WDC and IIC. Some students had made wonderful Rangolis on the esteemed theme of Women's Day. Session started with lamp lightening ceremony. Felicitation of guests was done by Director Dr. H.J. Bhasin. Wonderful Audio Visual (AV) were presented by students to introduce and highlight journey of our guest speakers.

IPS Tejaswi Satpute and Sangeeta Punekar, co-founder of the Advait Foundation and a social worker, were the guests for the event. Tejaswi madam put light on equality and the ability to perform duties with strength; self-assurance, decision-making skills, and knowledge were admirable. She put light on the Tri Sutri of willingness, efforts, and consistency and believes that "Don't Keep Anything For Options...!" Her work in "Operation Parivartan" speaks a lot about the title conferred on her "Lady Singham of Solapur".

Sangeeta Punekar madam enriched the gathering with her knowledge on laws and rights for women in India. She created awareness among the students regarding the same. Her enriching words made the audience reflect on their lives. It was indeed a noble event organized by the Institute, which served the aim of empowering women and making them feel appreciated and valued. SRBS Students entertained the gathering with their singing and dancing skills.

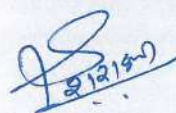

The programme was well appreciated by all the students and members of the audience.

Awareness Session on Health and Hygiene

HR Club in association with the Women Development Cell organised a session for the management students of BMS and MMS to engage in awareness, advocacy, and knowledge-sharing around the importance of menstrual hygiene management. It was held on 15 December, 2022 in the seminar room and smart classroom for girls and boys respectively.

There are many taboos/myths related to menstruation, and this session aims to break all taboos and raise awareness among individuals and everyone who menstruates and the one who doesn't. It is conducted so that people could understand menstruation is not a curse, rather it is a gift and proper hygiene is important.

The main objectives of celebrating this day were following:

- To break the silence on menstruation
- To raise awareness on importance of menstrual hygiene management
- To advocate the MHM (Menstrual Hygiene Management) friendly environment

The sessions were conducted by Ms. Mehak Kaushik, Manager at The GlobalHunt Foundation and Ms. Roshnee Bhowmick, CSR Executive.

Ms. Mehak Ms. Mehak Kaushik started her career by undertaking a research of 1500 children in the largest resettlement colony of Delhi. Here she got an experience as to how children need interactive models within their learning to achieve a basic level of comprehension. At GlobalHunt Foundation she further expanded this experience where through diverse social level projects a change was planned within the target community. She holds her highest degree of Masters in Sociology from Delhi School of Economics and is well versed with social concepts and systems.

Working with Unicharm India since 2018. Mainly responsible for all CSR activities in West Bengal. Campaigning for Menstrual Health and Hygiene management in West Bengal mainly in educational institutions, non-profit organizations and in the community level as well. Has conducted more than 300+ sessions on Menstrual Health in educational institutions and grass root level in Kolkata. She graduated with Psychology (Hons) and holds a Master's Degree in Social Work. Worked in the area of child protection & health for more than 6 years. Represented the state at NIPCCD on child protection issues.

educational opportunities, health and overall social status of women and girls around the world. As a result, millions of women and girls are prevented from reaching their full potential. The speakers ensured all the queries of the students were answered correctly and without hesitation.

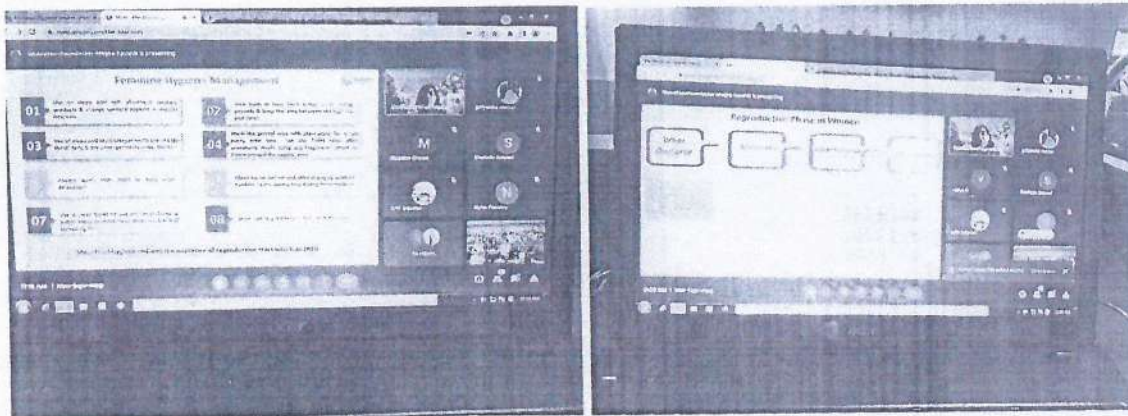

Hence, it is essential to break the silence, raise awareness and change negative social norms around Menstrual Hygiene. It is possible to create a world where no one is held back because they menstruate. This means a world menstruation can be managed safely, hygienically, with confidence, and without shame; everyone can access and afford the menstrual product of their choice. Period stigma is a thing of the past; everyone has basic information about menstruation; everyone can access period-friendly water, sanitation and hygiene facilities everywhere.

Sir/Madam,

As you are aware that the Government of India is committed to promote gender equality and women empowerment across every sector and preventing all forms of violence against women that negatively impact gender equality and human dignity. The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace ((Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013 upholds women's fundamental right to equality as guaranteed under Articles 14 to 15 of the Indian Constitution, the right to live with dignity under Article 21 and the right to practice any profession or to carry on any occupation, trade or business which includes right to a safe and secure working environment free from all forms of violence and harassment, as provided under Article 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution of India.

With improved access to education, skilling, and employment opportunities, millions of Indian women are entering the country's workforce. It is crucial that as a country we provide all women with a safe and secure work environment. It is the responsibility of every employer, whether in public or private and in organized or unorganized sectors to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Act. The employers are also mandated to conduct sensitization workshops for their employees periodically to make them aware about the provisions of the Act and towards the need for upholding the dignity of women and end gender stereotypes so as to encourage more and more women to participate in economic activities. This will contribute to the realisation of gender equality and result in inclusive growth for the benefit of individuals, the family and nation as a whole.

In view of the above, the following activities are to be conducted in all the AICTE approved institutions from 25.11.2022 to 10.12.2022.

- To conduct sensitization workshops for their employees to make them aware about the provisions of the Act.

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Yogesh has spent more than thirty years in National and International Curricula. For the first twelve years, she taught Physics and Maths for the Indian national curriculum of the C.B.S.E. (Central Board of Secondary Education) to senior classes at the Army Public School and Modern School, Barakhamba Road in Delhi. In 2000, she was appointed head of Educational and Customer Services at SchoolNet India Ltd, an educational initiative of ILFS (Infrastructure Leasing and Financial Services). Here, Yogesh along with her team trained teachers and supervised the training and implementation of educational technology in close to 35 Mumbai schools.

Yogesh's experience in IBD, International Baccalaureate Diploma Program and the IGCSE, International General Certificate of Secondary Education started with Dhirubhai Ambani International School, DAIS, when it opened in Mumbai in 2002. The challenging IBD Programme steered her teaching towards problem solving. Yogesh's teaching methodology is designed to keep students completely engaged, motivated, on task, challenged and proud of their learning through opportunities of decision making and exploration of better methods that can equip students with skills requisite for university education. During her tenure at DAIS, Yogesh grew from being the founding teacher to the Head of the Math Dept. and Curriculum Coordinator to the Director Academics. While being the Academic Director at the institution, she continued to be the Head of Mathematics at DAIS until July 2016.

As the Head of the Mathematics Department, Yogesh was involved in the recruitment, appraisals and mentoring of teachers, leading two five years' IB reviews in the dept., leading department workshops, student and parent orientations, setting up processes, practices and conducting students' sessions on Theory of Knowledge and Extended Essay, Math Exploration for students and teachers. Yogesh personally undertook intellectual initiatives to encourage and train the department teachers with 3-4 students investigating on complex mathematical applications every year. Under her leadership, the Department implemented and maintained academic excellence with way above world averages for IB and a few India and world toppers for IGCSE every year.

Schools need teacher preparedness to meet the aims of delivering quality education to the next generation and in the profession of education, teachers should never stop to assess themselves or their techniques. In her role as Director-Academics at DAIS, Yogesh introduced a formative and evolutionary teachers' appraisal model drawn from her research that can be customized to the context of school goals and teachers' professional development. She also devised and implemented students' learning survey for the schoolteachers as a self-assessment tool. In this role, as pedagogical leader and member of senior leadership, Yogesh sought to contribute to the formulation and revision of school's academic policies required to support approaches to teaching and learning. She significantly contributed as the chair of teaching and learning for school CIS (Council of International Schools) accreditation by steering the alignment and consistency between ICSE (Indian Certificate of Secondary Education) and international curricula of Cambridge and the IB Diploma. In her previous role as the International Curriculum Continuum Coordinator and then K-12 Yogesh worked towards alignment and consistency between different curricula offered at the school, which were documented in the Curriculum Handbook for each discipline at the school. She spearheaded workshops across K-12 for teachers focusing on 'how to learn skills', create opportunities for various models of cooperative learning, and introduce them to develop unit plans with strategies for trans-disciplinary skills. She was presented the 'Innovative Leader Award' for benchmarking best educational practices at the World Education Congress held at Mumbai in June 2014.

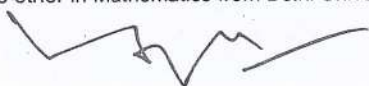

In July 2016, Yogesh ventured to establish CourseLeap Education, offering tailored solutions for schools and students to achieve excellence through the application of strong academic principles and practices within various international curricula. CourseLeap is a young and dynamic organization in Mumbai, trying to address skill and competency gaps in pedagogy and learning through enrichment and elevation programmes for schools and students. For Students' Vertical at CourseLeap, Yogesh successfully launched various Pre-College Programmes that include Pre-IB and Mid-IB Summer Programmes. All these courses stress on scholarship and critical thinking to prepare students for the intellectual rigour and independent learning methods so that students are better prepared to succeed at top global universities. Along with her colleagues at CourseLeap, Yogesh is currently conceptualizing and designing more courses to strengthen the upper secondary education. Flagship Courses include High School Accelerator Courses, Pre-IB, American Math Competitions and Pre University Courses.

As part of school services, Yogesh consults various international schools guiding them in self-study to strengthen their standards for IB and CIS evaluation and accreditation; aligning various national and international curricula and reviewing and formulating school academic policies. CourseLeap is well-placed to assist schools in strategic planning for teachers' professional development, offers in-depth academic assessment and consultation that provides objective recommendations based on formative teacher appraisal and students' performance data to strengthen the aspects of international education including students' results through internal audit and quality assurance for excellence. CourseLeap has/is engaged with Heritage Xperiential Learning School Gurgaon; Strawberry Fields High School, Chandigarh; JBCN Parel, Mumbai; Neev Academy, Bangalore; Edubridge International School, Mumbai; Woodstock School, Mussoorie, City Montessori School, Lucknow and Neeraja Modi International School, Jaipur. Yogesh is the member of the advisory board for the international school at the Heritage Xperiential Learning School (Gurgaon)

In November 2017, the Stars of the Industry Group presented Yogesh with Start-Up Professional of the Year under the Super Achievers' category. Yogesh has also served as a panel member on various important educational platforms – Indian Education Summit, organised by Business World, a premier Indian business magazine; Fulbright, USIEF (United States- India Educational Foundation) for teacher selection; Next Genius, dedicated to promote critical thinking skills and foster the intellectual capital of youth towards the service of society.

Through association with institutions such as CIS, Council of International Schools and IB Educator Network as IB workshop leader and School Site Visitor in Asia Pacific Region, Yogesh is a skilled leader of current curricular reforms and global educational practice. She understands how to focus on school improvement in Indian international schools in order to deliver high quality global practices. As part of IBEN, Yogesh is an examiner for HL Math and is upskilled in the new Math subject changes and TOK from the year 2020. She has conducted IB workshops in Shanghai and Mumbai in the year 2019.

She has two Masters' degrees, one in Education from University of Bath, UK with specialization in Educational Leadership and Management and the other in Mathematics from Delhi University. She also holds two bachelor's degrees in Physics (Honours) and Education from Delhi University.

Report on International Women's Day – March 7, 2020

International Women's Day is celebrated in the world over, every year on eighth day of March. It celebrates womanhood and pays tribute to the indomitable spirit of women across globe. SRBS students also celebrated the same day on March 7, 2020 from 11:00 am to 12:pm in the Auditorium to confer love and gratitude for female students and faculty members.

The event started with a poem recited by the student in the appreciation of entire female fraternity. ### Abstract

The baseline of this research work made to study the factors influencing on trading behavior of women stock market investors from brokers point of view was sought as the stock brokers are directly in contact with the investors, and they know very well the behavior of the investors and the psychology of investors. Hence attempt was made to find out the factors influence of women for their investment decisions. Based on the results of factors analysis there are two factors found similar for women investors i.e. attitude and good rumors, expectation and bad rumors. Hence the individual investors should consider the above two factors such as attitude and good rumors, expectation and bad rumors while making the investment.

Key words: Stock brokers, Investment decision, Trading behavior, Psychological biases, Stock market

1. Preamble

Investment is a pledge of money with the expectation of positive return in the future. The expected return may be in regular income or increasing the investment appreciation or both. Generally, investors making investment in long term, because the decision what we take today it may be resulted in another shape in the future. Investment decisions have acquired a fascinating topic as today's investment decision resulted for tomorrow's profit or loss. Certainly all the investment may not generate profit because investors may not behave and act rational at all the times. There are so many factors influence the investment decision such as overconfidence, framing effects, a bad judgment, lack of knowledge etc. If investors can judge properly how, where and when to invest, it may have positive impact for their investment. Behavioral Finance is a new emerging science that blends psychology with strict conservative finance to explain the behavior of investors. In general, it defined as the application of psychology to apprehend human behavior in finance or investment. The subject of behavioral finance is becoming more popular to study the investments as trader's decision making in adversely influences to the investor's performance. Psychologically men are differing from women in many aspects, the crux of this research is to know whether there exists any difference for the investment behavior among gender or both behave in the similar way in the line of rationality.

GENDER EQUALITY

Gender plays a pivotal role in investment and trading behavior. Both men and women taking investment decisions especially in financial decision in equal manner irrespective with developed and developing economies, but still the differences may persist in their choice, pattern etc. As the investment decisions are subject to psychological parameter and it is a proven fact that there exists a marked difference in the psychology of male and female. In previous time, men used to dominate in all the financial aspects and they used to make their own decisions and decide for the female also. But at present due to gender equity in many aspects of life as both men and women are economically independent. Thus, there is a need to study the investment behavior of various investment decisions making. Over the years, women have gained economic independence. Obviously, they also participate in investment decision making as much as the men do. In spite of economic independence, studies suggest that women are less knowledgeable or less spontaneous than men, about money matters and investing. So, it is necessary to find out whether the gender differences exist in investment behavior and also the factors influencing investment decisions in equity investments.

While making decision regarding investment and the trading behavior of individuals, are mainly consult with stock broker, who is a regulated person can do the activity of both buying and selling for their own as well as their client for commission. However, the transaction happens over the counter market, i.e. trading through online or telecommunication. Stock brokers know well about the investors and their behavior regarding stock, their preference and their investment decisions. Many a time's investors instead of taking their own investment decisions depend on the advice, suggestion of brokers. In turn brokers also are seen to advice the clients as per their choice and preference to get better acceptability of their suggestion. Hence it was felt fit to take the view of brokers who see the investors from close quarters and who are the right persons to give their views of factors influencing towards trading behavior of stock market investors and their decision making skills. Hence this research work is devoted on analyzing the influential factors for trading behavior on stock market, as brokers' point of view.

2. Earlier studies

The topic of research like investors attitude towards investment options, factors influencing the trading behavior of investors are quite normal with individual investors, there were plenty of research work carried out in this topic. But studying the investors attitude, factor influencing trading behavior of women investors with the view of stock brokers is quite one.

Matoussi, H. & Zoghlami, F. (2009) examined the psychological factors influencing trading behavior and investment decision by Tunisian investors. The study shows that precaution, under confidence, conservatism, under opportunism and informational inferiority complex are the influential factors while making investments. Mittal, M. & Vyas, R. K. (2009) studied the relationship between income and investment decision of the investors and found that overconfidence, self-attribution, overreaction, framing effect, purchase price as reference point, regret or loss avoidance as the influential factors and also pointed out income is the key factor which impact the above said psychological factors. Mittal, M and Vyas, R. K. (2010) examined the behavioral bias with salaried class and business class investors and found that business class investors are more prone to cognitive biases i.e., more confident, self-attribution and larger tendency to overreaction etc., The salaried class investors are prone to prospect theory, framing effect, regret avoidance and larger tendency to use purchase price as reference point. Chandra, A., & Sharma, D. (2010) identified the psychological factors like sensitivity to rumors, conservatism bias, representativeness was found the influential factors of investors and the other psychological factors like overconfidence, opportunism, informational inferiority complex did not found as influential factors of Indian investors. Haddas, F., & AL-Horani, A.A.M. (2011) examined the psychological factors influencing while making investment decision and found that overconfidence, self-attribution, conservatism, Opportunistic behavior, Sensitivity to rumors and mimicking attitude as a psychological factor in case of Jordanian investors. Lee, K., et al. (2013) studied the behavioral factors influence while making investment decision in respect with gender. The study found that there is behavioral difference persist in respect with gender. The following behavioral factors like Anchoring and Adjustment Bias and Ambiguity effect were more evident in female respondents and Mental Accounting Bias was more evident in male respondents. The males have a higher holding period, while females have a higher risk adjusted return.

The earlier research work has been undertaken in the area of factors influencing investment decisions like investor behavior, investor preference, risk tolerance etc. However mostly they are general in nature and mostly confined with individual investors. A specific and detailed study of factors influencing investment behaviors of women investors are very limited that too with brokers point of view. Many a times the investors consult the brokers for their investment decisions. Instead of taking their investment decisions independently. Whether brokers take into account while advising their clients the gender psychology and preferences into account to get more acceptability of their suggestions or their advice all investors equally in the same manner irrespective of gender have not been studied. No study is found which takes the perception of brokers who deal with the investors directly while studying the factors influencing investment decision making in respect with women investors. Considering the above gap, the present study made an attempt to analysis the factors influencing investment decisions in equity, to know from stock brokers' their perception on the behavior of women investors.

3. Materials and Methods

The main aim of this study is to find out the factors influencing the trading behavior of equity investors is opined by stock brokers. The important influential factors have identified equity investors in respect with women investors. The study used exclusively primary data which was collected based on convenience sampling method by using detailed questionnaire method. Initially, a sample of 100 stock brokers were considered by applying scientific sample size estimator, of which 91 constitute the final sample. To find out the factors influencing the trading and investment decision, the study used factor analysis technique.

4. Results and Discussion

To find the influential characteristic traits influencing investor behavior factor analysis was performed on the results of the importance attached to each of the factors influencing individual investment decision. Initially, correlation analysis was run to check for interdependence among the factors after which Principal Component Analysis (PCA) was performed.

The above table it was found out 10 statements for female that have influenced on investment decisions. Each statement explains one characteristic of interest. The Likert (five-point) scale was used to find out the views on investments. The two analysis namely KMO test and Bartlett's test of sphericity are the tests to know the suitability of data for the purpose of factor analysis. Kaiser-Meyer-Olkin measure of sampling adequacy was employed to examine the appropriateness of the data for factor analysis. High values generally point that a factor analysis is appropriate. If the value is less than 0.50, the results of the factor analysis probably will not be very useful. Table – 1 shows the KMO value is 0.640 of female's investors, which signifies that the factor analysis is useful with the data. Bartlett's test of sphericity is a test statistics used to examine the hypothesis that the variables are uncorrelated in the population. The chi Square value for Bartlett's test of Sphericity is 64.304 for female investors and the significant value is 031, which is significant at more than 99 percent level of confidence. This shows the data are suitable for factor analysis.

The rotated component matrix was used to extract independent variables highly related to particular components. Orthogonal Varimax rotation together with the Kaiser Normalization was used to force the entries in the initial factor to be near 0 or 1. Such loadings show more clearly as to which variables go together and thus easily interpretable. The final matrix represents both a pattern and a structure matrix. The coefficients in the rotated matrix indicate both the correlation coefficient and the regression weights. The purpose of performing PCA was to transform a set of interrelated variables into a set of unrelated linear combinations of these variables into a set of uncorrelated linear combinations. Varimax rotation together with Kaiser Criterion was used to classify and reduce the factors to interpretable components.
