Program was very good and it was inspired us

Really a wonderful seminar on how one should grow with the business or job they are planning for and at the same time treating one's self and the Business/Job as two different entities.

It was good but i could even get better If ma'am made the session more interactive and asked directly questions about what do we already know about the topic. Otherwise the seminar was good and i lookup to attending more in the future.

multiple attempts added immense value to the entrepreneur's personality. He also stated that a majority of failed startup entrepreneurs were found to be very successful in the careers. Thus suggesting that there was nothing to lose for students in experimenting with a startup provided that the identification of the problem to be solved is validated and that the market for the problem solution was a scalable one.

This competition was quite long that was unexpected but because the competition was long I learn so much. I got the confidence to do short term trading in real market which I wasn't able to do before due to low experience and fear of making mistakes. I am really thankful to the EDC department for organising this. This is probably going to be one of the most memorable parts of my college life. It was fun [☺]

The Entrepreneurship Development Cell (EDC) at Sheila Raheja School of Business Management and Research, Bandra (East) hosted "Investment and Trading Yoddha" competition from 22nd August to 9th September, 2022 where each student was given a virtual fund of Rs.10, 00,000 to create their own portfolio.

A large number of students from MMS and BMS participated in this competition. The activity gave students a live experience of money management, risk management, position size, decision making, critical thinking and analytical ability using their general and financial awareness. Different concepts of finance such as portfolio management, investment, maximization of wealth and net worth were also experienced by the students. Also, students got an exposure on how various events all around the world affect the decision making of the investors. The activity was a big success as the students showed great interest along with pleasure.

Success does not come without challenges and this experience of 19 days has shown the students, the ups and downs of the stock market and taught them how to learn from their mistakes and achieve success. This journey has expanded the minds of the students and brought to their notice the importance of time, patience and discipline. "Investment and Trading Yoddha" competition has increased their curiosity of learning and once again emphasized on the dateless fact that "Hard work has no substitute".

- Through online education, the teaching of classes is being made more interesting, due to which children are paying more and more attention to it.
- Online education is also environmentally beneficial because the dependence on online will reduce the need for copies and books.

facilities, consumers, tourists and the daily visitors would be able to interact in a smarter and more effective manner to provide a meaningful Smart City experience.

Our team envisions a future wherein there lies:

Increased transparency and connectivity: Cities can interconnect using blockchain vertical services, such as mobility, energy or security, through a single open, accessible, transversal system that is able to exchange data with their inhabitants in real time.

Direct communication: Blockchain makes it possible for government departments and the public to interact digitally, without the need for intermediaries. This would speed up, for example, bureaucratic procedures at registries, town halls, etc.

Integrity over information: With this technology it is possible to encrypt a file totally or partially in order to share only the part that is of interest, privately, securely and without the risk of its being manipulated by a third party.

Efficient management: Blockchain allows both the public and city officials to know the origin and destination of each resource. In addition, the latter can find out how city services are being used without compromising people's privacy.

Thus we hope to connect urban cities into the daily lives of the residents that exchange information seamlessly in the background to bring convenience, efficiency and enhance security to their day-to-day businesses and lives.

For progressive development of the young business enthusiast, Department of BMS in Association with Entrepreneurship Development Cell of Sheila Raheja School of Business Management & Research conducted an event focusing on empowering young people to make a progressive social impact titled "Entrepreneurial Roadmap Competition". We at EDC understand that the aspiring entrepreneurs need guidance, mentoring and support on a continual basis so the EDC team decided to give a small platform to the young intellectual at our college to bring up business plan consisting new brand, new thoughts and innovation. EDC came up with a new way of encouraging students towards their business plan by conducting Entrepreneurial roadmap event. The event was a big success where total number of 20 students participated and submitted their plans.

The initial plan was to understand what the students have in mind as a business. With the help and guidance of our faculty in charge and professors, Students successfully designed the business plan and created a good idea into a conceptual business.

The students actively took part and understood the ways of creating a business plan, the name roadmap itself tells up about the idea of helping aspiring entrepreneurs by showing them a roadmap for the potential business.

The session was conducted smoothly and successfully, to encourage the students who submitted their business plan as a token of appreciation they were given a participation certificate and were sent back with some learning, the top 3 business plans were acknowledged and were awarded as per their rankings. We see a lot of potential in our students and hence we will continue with the roadmap event with further challenges and activities.

The Institution Innovation Council and Entrepreneurship Development Cell of Sheila Raheja School of Business Management and Research organized an online session to acquaint the students of MMS with knowledge of the "Out of the box thinking for problem-solving" on 28th June 2022.

The speaker of the session was Prof. Veezhinathan Kamakoti, Director, IIT Madras whose area of expertise is computer science and software engineering and also holds a Ph.D.

Out of the box thinking is a metaphor that means to think differently, unconventionally, or from a new perspective. This phrase often refers to novel or creative thinking. To think outside the box is to look further and to try not thinking of the obvious things, but to try thinking of the things beyond them or even other than them. This was explained by Prof V Kamakoti in depth with the help of real life examples which enabled students to understand why out of the box thinking is important in today's competitive world and how it gives you an edge when dealing with real life scenarios.

Prof Kamakoti further introduced a course on Out of the box thinking which IIT Madras is launching where candidates will be taught to find solutions to problems by using reasoning that is not immediately obvious and involving ideas that may not be obtainable by using only traditional step-by-step logic. In this unique course, such thinking is emphasized through rediscovering the known and unknown facts of mathematics logically with an interesting broader perception and the manner of doing it.

GUEST LECTURE ON RETAIL MARKETING

Guest lecture on "Retail Marketing" was organized on 18th October 2019. Mr. Mukesh Kumar, CEO of K. Raheja owner of Infinity Mall was invited as speaker to deliver his views on the subject matter which is relevant and important from the career point of view of marketing students.

Due to the rich experience of guest speaker, he could effectively explain the issues entailed in the retail marketing such as:

1. The customer is the most important person in your business

The main retail principle to master is: the customer is king. They should be the centre of your business, and everything you do must revolve around customer needs. Knowing them, and focusing on them in everything you do, will help you grow your business and your team.

2. Retail is detail

So, you need to address and improve your understanding of your customer. To do this, every retailer must focus on the detail, and get things right the majority of the time. Mistakes are OK, but you must learn from them and don't repeat sloppy errors. Customers will allow you some mistakes, but too many will turn them away.

3. Understand the four Ps

This is a very old principle but still has validity. The four Ps - Product, Price, Place, Promotion - are the basic foundations of a successful retail business.

Product

You need products that your customers want to buy, and a product range that will satisfy your customers' needs and desires. The products must also deliver a profit for you to have a successful business.

Price

Price must be consistent across your range and meet all requirements for your business. You need to price your product range at the correct level for the customers to be able to buy your products, and for them to gain value from them. This could mean pricing high or low - this very much depends upon your customer offering.

Place

You need to provide the right place for your customers to purchase your product, be that a physical store, a catalogue or an ecommerce website - or a combination.

For Sheila Raheja School of Business
Management & Research

Director

Promotion

Once you have a product - at the right price, in a place where the customer can access it - you need to tell them about this and promote your business and your products.

4. Go the extra mile for your customer

Providing great customer service starts with understanding and knowing your customer; however, knowing them is just the start of the journey. To be successful you must deliver world-class customer service - continually going the extra mile, each time delivering just a little more than the customer expects.

Doing this each time you and your team interact with your customers will win them over and make them loyal over a long period of time.

5. Location, location, location

Historically, location has been one of the most important factors in retail success; and still to this day it will have a major impact on the performance of a physical store.

It was indeed a knowledge sharing experience to the students of Marketing.
