- Time: 2.00 pm onwards
- No. of students participated: 69 students
- Mode of Conduct: Offline Session
- Number of Faculty members that Participated: 3 faculties

The Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) of Sheila Raheja School of Business Management and Research (SRBS) in association with the Placement Cell organized an Awareness Workshop on "Entrepreneurship & Innovation as Career Opportunities" for students.

The session was conducted with the objective of sensitizing students to entrepreneurship as a viable and aspirational career path.

The workshop was addressed by Amit Sharma Khandelwal, an entrepreneur with hands-on experience in building and scaling ventures. He is the Co-Founder of Sault (August 2022–Present), a company engaged in selling audio products, smart watches, and chargers across India. He is also the Co-Founder of Mcare – Mobile Ka Doctor (January 2021–Present), a venture focused on mobile repair and related services. In addition to his entrepreneurial journey, he serves as a Visiting Faculty at SP Jain Institute of Management & Research.

During the session, Mr. Khandelwal shared insights from his startup experiences, highlighting innovation, risk-taking, and resilience. He discussed how identifying everyday problems can lead to sustainable business ideas. The interaction helped students understand the realities of entrepreneurship beyond theory. The workshop successfully inspired students to think creatively and explore innovation-driven career options.

Objectives

- To create awareness among students about entrepreneurship and innovation as viable career opportunities beyond conventional employment paths.
- To expose students to real-world entrepreneurial journeys, challenges, and opportunities through interaction with a practicing entrepreneur.
- To motivate students to think creatively and identify problems that can be converted into entrepreneurial ideas.
- To encourage ideation and entrepreneurial thinking, leading to the submission of original business or innovation ideas.
- To build an initial entrepreneurial mindset by familiarizing students with the basics of opportunity identification, innovation, and risk-taking.

Mr. Amit Sharma Khandelwal

Co-founder & CEO, Sault & Mcare | Visiting Faculty - SPJIMR

Amit Sharma Khandelwal is an entrepreneur, educator, and lifelong learner who works at the intersection of business, technology, and education.

He is the Co-founder and CEO of Mcare, one of India's fastest-growing B2B platforms for mobile spare parts, displays, and batteries, and Sault, a design-led tech brand redefining how people experience mobile accessories. Before his entrepreneurial journey, Amit spent over two decades in marketing, loyalty, and channel development, including his role as Vice President at Future Group, where he led several large-scale retail and loyalty programs.

He is actively involved in social initiatives. Through Mcare Academy, he trains underprivileged youth in mobile repair and communication skills, and as a board member of the CRG Foundation, he supports rural healthcare in Rajasthan.

Amit holds an International Executive MBA (IEMB) from SDA Bocconi and is currently pursuing his PhD from BITS Pilani, where his research focuses on omnichannel retailing and customer loyalty. Since 2009, he has been a visiting faculty at SPJIMR, IMT, and BITS Pilani. Known for his practical, story-driven teaching approach, his course Managing Sales Force & Reseller Network (MFSRN) at SPJIMR consistently receives high ratings from students. His teaching areas include Retail Management, Sales & Distribution, and Entrepreneurial Thinking.

He has co-developed a new course Startup Lab with the Centre for Family Managed Business and Entrepreneurship (CFBE) at SPJIMR, a course designed to help young entrepreneurs and management students build and test real ventures.

Amit also writes regularly about his RHx philosophy; Routines, Habits, and Experiments on LinkedIn. He believes that our routines and habits shape who we become, and that experimenting with them helps us grow both personally and professionally.

Based in Mumbai, he lives with his wife, and two daughters. A fitness enthusiast, he enjoys early mornings, calisthenics, and quiet thinking time before the day begins
